“...One of the more novel numbers of the evening also included an alumna, Nichole Raab, in “Expansion, Tangle,” performed by the aerial dance group Voler–Thieves of Flight. Using dramatic dance, acrobatics and aerial performance, the group presented an unusual solo and an intriguing duet where the dancers were tethered to each other by a long braid of hair. This presentation was one of the hits of the evening.

Always entertaining, this was one of the most varied of the dance programs for Dance in the Park. And despite the wet evening, the show had as large an audience as ever.”
